

Franz Jagggar

Mr. Jagggar has worked with businesses in financing, management, and strategic planning. He has also been a principal in the start-up of several new companies. He is an advisor to the Center for Space and Advanced Technology, a venture capital and management firm in Fairfax, Virginia. Mr. Jagggar was a founder of Kool Klips, Inc., a childrens' hair cutting retail chain. Prior to this, Mr. Jagggar was Chief Executive Officer of Bakers Place, Inc. He has served as an advisor to the banking industry, including the providing of financial analysis in efforts to privatize a government owned bank. Mr. Jagggar is considered an expert in the field of financial and management strategies for emerging and maturing businesses. Mr. Jagggar has:

- Restructured several businesses to improve financial and operating performance.
- Performed numerous market assessments and surveys for private business.
- Developed operating plans for numerous businesses based on the identification of performance measures, and
- Initiated and directed efforts to re-vitalize struggling private sector enterprises through the use of strategic planning principles.
- Consulted with a number of venture "start-ups" including the chartering of five national banks.

You can contact Mr. Jagggar at:

5500 Holmes Run Parkway, Suite 1116
Alexandria, VA 22304
703.751.2380